BOTH COMIC AND OPERATIC.

The Princess Pat, Coming Saturday, a Work of Distinction.

The Princess Pat, Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert's latest comic opera, which reigned queen of Broadway for many months, comes to the Auditorium, matinee and night, Saturday, Oct. 21, with Miss Ruth Welch and the clever cast from the Cort theater. It is one of those very rare comic operas which are at once comic and operatic. The book and lyrics are in Mr. Blossom's best vein, with pith and point to come, while Mr. Herbert's music not only exceeds the best that he put into Mlle. Modiste, The Red Mill, and The Prima Donna, but in one or two of the concerted numbers approaches closely the distinction of his grand opera efforts in Natoma and Madeleine. Add to these facts the introduction of principals and ensemble that can sing as well as look pretty and you have the reason for the success of The Princess Pat.—Adv.

TOWNSHEND.

Byron Thompson spent the day in Brattleboro Friday.

Henry Kingsbury of Rawsonville was a recent guest of Mrs. Daisy Williams.

H. W. Sanders is repairing his barn and putting under new sills.

Ernest Cudworth of Bennington was a guest of his brother, Eugene Cudworth, Thursday.

C. C. Robinson and family visited relatives and friends at their old home in Jamaica Friday.

The inspector of the Women's Relief corps, Miss Nellie Crowley of Rutland, was entertained while here by both Mrs. W. H. Miles and Mrs. John Grant.

The Helping Hand society met last week in the home of Miss Pearl Thayer. It was voted to hold meetings this winter but once in three weeks instead of two weeks as formerly unless business makes it necessary to call a special meeting.

Every Tuesday and Wednesday beginning Oct. 17 and 18, Mrs. W. H. Page will be at the Townshend Inn prepared for work and trade. The stock is from Mrs. G. H. Smith's millinery shop and will be up-to-the-minute.—Adv.

Mrs. Charles Akley will be at Townshend Inn Friday and Saturday, Oct. 20-21, with a fine display of millinery from Bascom's Millinery Parlor, Brattleboro, Vt. Mr. L. C. Briggs, who has had 12 years experience in Fifth Ave. houses, New York city, is designer of these hats.—Adv. 193-194

WEST WARDBORO.

Mrs. Julia Bills has gone to Brattleboro to work at Roscoe Fisher's.

Floyd Robinson has gone to Athol, Mass., where he has a position.

Fred Bogle has been helping his brother at West Dover on the home farm the past two weeks.

Miss Alice Streeter, who has been at Dr. Heillon's in Warrenton the past three months, has returned to her home.

Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Clark and Miss Elizabeth Weeks of Norwalk, Conn., registered at Green Mountain House Tuesday night.

Leland Newell went to Burlington as representative from his class at Leland and Gray seminary at the boys' and girls' industrial exposition held there last week.

The books from the town library which are kept in this part of the town have been moved from the postoffice to the parsonage where they may be gotten under the same regulations as before.

Rev. O. W. Heyer started recently for a trip through the state. On Sunday he expected to speak at Newbury Advent church, thence to go to St. Johnsbury to visit his daughter and later to go to Newport where he formerly had a pastorate to attend the International conference.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

REJECTED BY CENSORS.

But Where Are My Children? Has Endorsement of Ministers, Etc.

Twice rejected by the Board of Censors as highly improper, but endorsed by Dr. Parkhurst and Rev. John J. Hughes, Paulist Superior, Where Are My Children? was given without the approval by recognized censors, at the Globe theatre, New York, where it ran for two months to packed houses. It has been presented in Boston all summer in spite of many protests, and will be seen for a limited engagement at the Auditorium three days beginning today.

It is certain to develop two distinct sets of opinions and to provoke no end of discussion, for the lesson it is expected to teach, and it is worth seeing for the story into which the theme, clearly and intentionally an educational one, is woven.

This story is as delicately drawn as possible in the circumstances, if the argument against the premeditated destruction is to carry far, but there are no veiled or furtive suggestions. The author has pictured a spade as a spade. If the purpose of the drama is realized it will not be because the door is open to a mixed audience.

Walton, the principal character (Tyron Power), is prosecutor of the pleas of his district. He loves children and it is the disappointment of his life that he has none of his own. With practitioners who destroy life at its very source he has no patience, and he deals with them in his official capacity without mercy. Finally he sends a notorious "society doctor" to prison for fifteen years, and the convict in revenge gives him undoubted proof that his own wife, Mrs. Walton, has been a profitable "patient."

This affords a pathetic and tragic denouement. The other characters of the play are society women, a conlot of the medical profession who sincerely and honestly believe in birth control for the poor, a girl whose life pays the penalty of her folly, and a broken hearted mother who, for reason of false modesty, has failed to place this girl on her guard against just such a disaster as overtakes her. Four performances will be given daily at 2, 3:30, 7, and 8:30 p. m.—Adv.

MILITIA CALL NECESSARY.

Funston Says Great Emergency Caused Order to Border.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Oct. 16.—Major-General Frederick Funston told some of the men under his command how great was the emergency which caused them to be ordered into khaki.

"When you men of the National Guard were called out," Gen. Funston said, "of course, you expected to go 'slam bang' across the border, and let me tell you that when history is written it will show that the calling out of the guard in June was no child's play—that it was a question of hours. The reason for calling out the National Guard was absolutely necessary. All of you will know why some day, and I do not think there has been any time since when it would have been safe to reduce the number of men on the border."

The general's remarks were made in the course of a talk at a dinner given by the Third and Fourth Illinois infantries.

DRISLANE FATALLY HURT.

North Walpole Man's Skull Fractured in Paper Mill.

BELLOWS FALLS, Oct. 16.—Timothy "Dewey" Drislane of North Walpole was taken to the Rockingham hospital Saturday morning from a Bellows Falls paper mill, with a fractured skull, sustained while at work. He died in the afternoon.

USE "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS WHEN CONSTIPATED

When bilious, headachy, sick, for sour stomach, bad breath, bad colds.

Get a 10-cent box. Take a Cascaret to-night to cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, a bad cold, are bilious, nervous, upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out. Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. Remember, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action; a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.—Adv.

CENTENNIAL OF MRS. HADLEY.

which has been her home more than 75 years. Mr. Hadley owned the meat market business which is now owned by the W. P. Richardson Co., and is known as the Richardson lower market, near the American building. He continued in business there until his death, Oct. 29, 1884. He inherited the business from his father.

Mrs. Hadley has been the mother of four children, two of whom died in childhood and two of whom are now living. Mrs. Emily Huntington Emerson, with whom Mrs. Hadley lives, and Mrs. Elizabeth Holman Selleck, who lives in another part of the old home. She had three grandchildren, Miss Kate L. Selleck, Mrs. William A. Shumway and Mrs. Helen F. Emerson, and two great-grandchildren, Francis Gordon Shumway and Albert Hadley Shumway.

Mrs. Hadley talks very interestingly of changes that have occurred in Brattleboro in years past. When she was younger the Prospect Hill section was a virgin forest and the business section consisted of only a few buildings. On the site of the present American building stood the old hotel, the American house. Chase's stage house, conducted by Paul Chase, stood where Crosby block now stands. It was the most prominent hotel in town and the stages from north, east, south and west put up there. The Centre Congregational church stood on what is now the village common.

When Mrs. Hadley was young her father died and an uncle in Lynn, Mass., was appointed her guardian. He owned a hotel there and once or twice a year would make the journey to Brattleboro to visit Mrs. Field and her daughter, always bringing with him a present for the girl. In the fall that Mrs. Hadley was 10 years old he wrote her mother to let the child make the trip to Boston and said he would meet her there and take her to Lynn for a visit. The girl, in the care of a local merchant who was making his annual trip to Boston, left on a four-horse stage at 3 o'clock in the morning and arrived in Templeton, Mass., at breakfast time. She does not recall where the next morning she arrived in Boston between 8 and 10 o'clock that night. The journey to those days took from 17 to 20 hours. Her uncle met her in Boston, and next morning they went to Lynn, where she made a long visit. She journeyed again to Lynn when she was 17 years old.

TO APPROPRIATE $52,000.

This is the Surplus Fund of the Vermont School Budget.

BURLINGTON, Oct. 16.—A meeting of the Vermont state board of education was held at the Hotel Vermont Friday, James Hartness, the chairman, of Springfield, Frank H. Brooks of St. Johnsbury, L. B. Johnson of Randolph and Arthur W. Hewitt of Plainfield meeting with Dr. Milo B. Hillegas of Montpelier, state commissioner of education.

Business of a routine nature was transacted, after which the budget for the next biennium, which has to be reported, according to law, was taken up. The budget was not completed and was left in the hands of a committee made up of the commissioner and L. B. Johnson.

The matter of appropriating the surplus funds of the budget, which amount to $52,000 was taken up but was not completed and was left in the hands of the same commission. This surplus will be apportioned throughout the state for the purpose of assisting rural schools and equalizing educational opportunities.

FARM BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

Fire Makes Clean Sweep on C. M. White Farm in Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 16.—The house and barn on a farm on the South Woodstock road owned by Charles M. White and occupied by his son, John White, were burned last night. Three or four cows, a horse and a hog, farming tools and a considerable quantity of hay and grain were lost, a part of the household goods being saved.

The fire started in the barn and when discovered by John White it had gained such headway that nothing could be done.

John White carried some insurance on his household goods but neither of the Whites would say last night whether the buildings were insured. It would probably cost in the neighborhood of $3,000 to rebuild the burned structures.

FRICK BUYS A REMBRANDT.

Steel Magnate Now Owns Four, Worth About $2,300,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Henry C. Frick has bought Rembrandt's painting, An Old Woman Reflecting Over the Lecture for $250,000, it became known here last night. This makes the fourth Rembrandt in Mr. Frick's art collection and is said to bring the amount he has spent for art works in the last year up to approximately $2,300,000. The canvass has been in the collection of Jules Peres of Paris, 50 years and was painted in 1649.

MILLERS FALLS IS DEFEATED AGAIN

Brattleboro Makes Game Finish and Wins by Score of 2 to 1

FINAL TALLY MADE WITH NO ONE OUT

P. Smith Contributes Fleeting Feature by Making Lunning Catch of Hot Liner and Doubling to Second—Pitchers Do Good Work.

Once more the Brattleboro baseball team trimmed Millers Falls Sunday afternoon at Island park in a close and well played game. The score was 2 to 1 and was won in the ninth, when Davis, who pitched fine ball for the visitors, weakened. Thompson, who twirled for Brattleboro, allowed one run in the third and was in some trouble in the second and fourth, but as the game progressed he grew better and was never in danger after the fourth.

A lunning catch of a hot liner from Riley's bat by P. Smith, which he easily converted into a double play, was the one fielding feature of the game out of the ordinary. The crowd was smaller than the one of the week before, but enjoyed the contest.

Robinson got a single with one out in the first. W. Davis got another single in the second with two down and a man on first, but Thompson fanned A. Smith.

C. Jones opened the third with a double to right and worked around to third on Donahue's infield out. Robinson went out, Guichen to March, and Davis held third but scored a moment later when P. Smith doubled to left. A scratch single by Teahan in the fourth and a clean single by Robinson in the eighth were the only other hits off Thompson.

Brattleboro, on the other hand, did not make much progress against Davis until the last two innings. Angier opened the third with a single to left but died trying to make himself believe it was a double. Riley opened the fourth with a double to left, but the next three men could not advance him. Dunlevy singled in the sixth but was out stealing. After Guichen had come out in the seventh Thompson doubled. March fanned, Taylor scratched an infield single, advancing Thompson to third. Taylor stole second, but Angier popped to Donahue.

Clune singled over second to open the eighth. He turned his ankle and Taylor was allowed to run for him. Dunlevy hit towards short. The ball got away from P. Smith and beyond W. Davis, and Taylor kept on to third. When W. Davis threw over P. Smith's head at third Taylor kept on and scored the run that tied up the game. Dunlevy made second. Riley lined one almost over third base and P. Smith made a remarkable catch and doubled Dunlevy off second. Gray popped to P. Smith.

Guichen led off in the last of the ninth and was hit by a pitched ball. He stole second and made third when the fourth ball pitched to Thompson was a wild pitch. Thompson stole and March connected for a line single over second, scoring the winning run with no one out. The score:

Sporting Notes.

Not many times in the last few years has Amherst been beaten, 69 to 0, or Williams, 69 to 0.

Sanford Plumb played a good game at left end for the University of Vermont Saturday at New York against the strong Columbia university team. The New Yorkers were able to win by a score of only 6 to 0.

Several features of the Lehigh game left an unsatisfactory impression at Yale. Considerable of the play was excessively rough, and doubt is felt that Lehigh will appear on the Yale book-ing list in 1917. A prominent Yale alumnus said today that if it was likely that Yale would take a definite move another season along the line of not meeting college teams whose eligibility rules have been untouched by the present wave of athletic reform.

The postage stamp is upon the tip of many a man's tongue who never talks about it.

Don't "Jiggle" The Hook

When you take the receiver off of the switchhook of your telephone, a small electric lamp is lighted on the switchboard in front of the operator. To that signal she responds with the familiar "Number, please?"

After your connection has been made with the other person, there are no lights on the switchboard until your receivers are placed on the switchhooks again, which signals mean, to the operator, that the conversation has ended.

If you desire to get the operator's attention, you may do so by moving the receiver hook down and up, but IT MUST BE DONE SLOWLY, or the little lamp will not glow on the switchboard and the operator will not get any signal. Your observance of this method of signaling will insure more prompt attention by the operator and will help make the service better.

The above suggestions are applicable to all subscribers located where the light signalling system is in use.
